

Skin Came Off

I had an obstinate skin disease, called Eczema. My body, head, and arms were covered with spots like drops of mortar, which came off in layers of dry scales. I suffered for over a year without relief, consulted several doctors without aid, and had almost given up hope. I saw an advertisement about CUTICURA, LEWIS & CLARK, and in spite of the fact that I was as well as ever, for my skin is as fine and clear as a baby's.

MRS. FLEMING ACQUITTED.

The Jury Decides That She Did Not Poison Her Mother.

NEW YORK, June 24.—Mrs. Alice Fleming, charged with killing her mother by administering poison in clam chowder, was declared not guilty early this morning after a trial lasting into the second day of the eighth week.

The trial had been sensational in the extreme. Mrs. Fleming and her mother, Mrs. Hill, got along badly. An estate of

MRS. ALICE FLEMING.
$50,000 was coming to Mrs. Fleming at her mother's death. When the mother was found dead the daughter was arrested. She pleaded not guilty. On the trial several disgusting and unprintable letters from Mrs. Fleming to a male admirer were read. The crowds at the trial have been very large, and a small panic resulted from the crush on Monday morning.

Reorganizing the Philadelphia Club.
PHILADELPHIA, June 24.—The management of the Philadelphia Baseball club yesterday effected a deal whereby Morten, centerfielder of the St. Paul team, comes to this city for McGill, one of the local club's pitchers. Turner, another Philadelphia player, is also loaned to St. Paul. President Beach, of the Philadelphia club, also received an offer from the New York team to exchange Connaughton and Harry Davis, of that team, for Doley unit, left-fielder for the Phillies. This was declined. Other changes are contemplated in the local team for the near future.

Catafalque Sentenced to Death.
PHILADELPHIA, June 24.—Judge Yerkes yesterday overruled the motion of counsel for Alphonso F. Cutalar, Jr., recently convicted of the murder of Johanna Logue, for a new trial, and sentenced the prisoner to be hanged. The governor will set the date of execution.

A Farmer Beaten by Robbers.
LANCASTER, Pa., June 24.—Jacob Wacker, a farmer, 54 years old, who lives alone in Strasburg township, was terribly beaten by robbers Monday night. He heard a noise downstairs, and upon investigating found three men in the sitting room, who blew out the light and ran into the yard when he entered. Wacker followed, when the men returned and attacked him. He thinks they were white men with blackened faces.

Conniff Pleads Guilty of Manslaughter.
WILKESBARRE, Pa., June 24.—The trial of J. D. Conniff, charged with the murder of William Welch in a saloon at Duryea last February, came to a sudden termination last evening. After one witness had been heard the defense withdrew its plea of not guilty and entered a plea of guilty of manslaughter. This was accepted by the commonwealth. The prisoner was remanded for sentence.

Dr. D. R. Rothrock, of New Berlin, Pa., does not hesitate to recommend Chamberlain's medicine. He says: "I have handled them for a year or more in my pharmacy and find them safe and reliable. My customers praise them very highly." No one who is troubled with rheumatism can use Chamberlain's Pain Balm without praising it. The quick relief from pain which it affords is alone worth many times its cost.

THE BOUNDARY DISPUTE.

It Is Aggravated by the Recent Arrest of a British Surveyor.

PROBABLY AN ENGLISH SCHEME.

The Crown Surveyor Was Evidently Engaged in Improving the Lines of Communication Between the Seaboard and the Disputed Territory.

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana, June 24.—Harrison, the British official who was arrested by an armed force of Venezuelans on June 15, is the crown surveyor. The affair has caused much indignation and excitement here, although nobody seems surprised at the incident, as the Venezuelans have repeatedly declared that they intended to put a stop to British road making in or about the disputed territory.

It is pointed out here that Harrison was working with a force of about a hundred laborers and engineers, well within the Schomburgk line, opening up a road from the Barima to the Cuyuni river. When notified by the commander of a force of Venezuelan troops to stop work, Harrison did so under protest, and promptly entered into communication with Sir Augustus Hemming, the new governor of British Guiana. Governor Hemming notified Harrison to offer no resistance to the Venezuelans, who claimed the right to arrest foreigners on the left bank of the Cuyuni river. Harrison carried out his instructions, but his arrest seems to have followed upon the receipt of additional instructions from Caracas.

It was this movement of the Venezuelan troops and the arrest of Harrison which led, it is said, to the alarming reports of the advance of Venezuelan troops into the disputed territory, which rumors were followed by the circulation of stories of sanguinary encounters between the British and Venezuelans. The reports of bloodshed, however, are not believed at Georgetown, although it is quite possible that there may have been a clash between Harrison's laborers and the Venezuelans.

The colonial officials state that no British have crossed the Schomburgk line except to visit the Venezuelans or to send them help, as in the case of the recent fire at El Dorado, when half that station was destroyed. The feeling here is that Great Britain cannot delay action much longer, as the Venezuelans, according to the British, seem determined to provoke a conflict without waiting for the report of the United States commission.

On the other hand, unbiased judges of the situation hold that the crown surveyor and his 100 laborers might very well have been kept here until all danger of a conflict was passed, and that the work of surveying and road building, even near the disputed territory, was calculated to excite the Venezuelans and cause further trouble at a moment when a spark is liable to start a most serious conflagration.

No military man is foolish enough to really pretend that the crown surveyor was engaged in the work other than that of preparing for eventualities by improving the lines of communication between the seaboard and the territory in dispute, and therefore it seems difficult to blame the Venezuelans for having put a stop to Harrison's operations. In fact, it is rumored that the crown surveyor's arrest was not ordered until it became plain that his outward stopping of work and retreat under protest were merely moves intended to deceive the Venezuelans, and that he was pushing the surveying and road making secretly, while apparently having stopped work in obedience to the remonstrances of the Venezuelans.

The actual facts in the case, naturally, are kept secret by the British officials, who, it is understood, have called a full report on the subject to the colonial office. The people here are rapidly getting tired of the whole dispute, especially of the bungling treatment which the really serious boundary dispute is receiving in London, and it is feared that the hands of all concerned may be forced, sooner or later, by a conflict on the border which might have been avoided had the dispute between British Guiana and Venezuela been handled more promptly and effectively by the home government.

The jingoes here are loud in their denunciations of the so-called "outrage" upon the crown surveyor and are loudly demanding that his release must be immediately brought about by Great Britain, even if a resort to arms must follow in order to bring about this result.

BRITISH PAPERS INDIGNANT.

They Demand Prompt Action in Rebuilding Venezuelan "Impertinence."

LONDON, June 24.—The Globe, commenting upon the arrest of the crown surveyor of British Guiana, by Venezuelan troops, says: "The Venezuelan government has repeated an insult to Great Britain, with which even American spread eagles could not sympathize. It looks as though President Crespo was thinking of the approach of the presidential election in the United States, and was anxious to force a collision with Great Britain before the question has lost its electioneering value."

The St. James Gazette, referring to the same subject, says: "This last impertinence is a repetition of the Uran and other affairs during a half century, and yet Venezuela has never apologized. Are we waiting to see the opinion which the American committee will reach upon the various historic questions which it is investigating in a languid way. If we are going to ignore the insolence of Caracas out of regard for the susceptibilities of Washington our patience will not wait for exercise."

Great Britain Will Act Decisively.

LONDON, June 24.—The Press Association announces that the British foreign office is expected to take decided measures in regard to the arrest of Mr. Harrison, the crown surveyor of British Guiana, by the Venezuelans.

Your Boy Won't Live a Month.

So Mr. Gilman Brown, of 34 Mill St., South Gardner, Mass., was told by the doctors. His son had Lung trouble, following Typhoid Malaria, and he spent three hundred and seventy-five dollars with doctors, who finally gave him up, saying: "Your boy won't live a month." He tried Dr. King's New Discovery and a few bottles restored him to health and enabled him to go to work a perfectly well man. He says he owes his present good health to the use of Dr. King's New Discovery, and knows it to be the best in the world for Lung trouble. Trial Bottles Free at A. Wasley's Drug Store.
